

Happy Spring, from Foodie Heaven!

At the SVHF headquarters we are enjoying planting the seeds for our upcoming events next fall, and we have a ton of surprises in store!

Here are some new additions to look for at the 2014 Sun Valley Harvest Festival:

Swine, Wine & Dine

We are excited to present our first Hailey event on Friday, September 19th: Swine, Wine & Dine. Enjoy an evening full of delicious offerings from the finest eateries in downtown Hailey. Then follow up the family-friendly fun with a pig carving demonstration and auction of the pig, with live music and dancing

After Parties!

Dress up and sip on our modern take on retro 20's cocktails while dancing the night away at our speakeasy themed after party on Friday night (flapper dresses encouraged)! Then, on Saturday, get up to get down! You'll have the opportunity to "raise your spirits" by taking a gondola ride up the world famous Bald Mountain to enjoy artisanal cocktails and culinary delights followed by dancing in Averil's Bar at The Roundhouse.

Wine Tastings

Join us for informative and palette pleasing wine tastings over the course of the weekend at your favorite local haunts. These presentations will feature exceptional wines and engaging viticultural experts from around the world.

Foodie Adventures

The Harvest Festival is taking our culinary demonstrations off the beaten path! As you may know, Sun Valley is a world-renowned outdoor playground. This year, we're giving our guests the opportunity to combine fun and "Idaho-centric" activities with amazing food and wine by offering a variety of new epicurean excursions.

Our new Foodie Adventures include a journey to Idaho Rocky Mountain Ranch, an organic farm tour at Nighthawk Farm, a guided fly fishing trip on Idaho's famous Big Wood River, and a biking expedition through the Boulder Mountains to Galena Lodge. Each adventure will include a wine-pairing luncheon crafted by acclaimed guest and local chefs to give you an al fresco dining experience you'll never forget!

SVHF Magazine

The SVHF welcomes Ryan Waterfield to our team as the Editor of the inaugural SVHF Magazine. With beautifully designed, must-read editorial about our guest chefs and festival events, the new magazine will be a festival-goers keepsake for years to come.

The Sun Valley Harvest Festival would like to welcome our newest sponsors and partners:
